

Hummingbird Sage

Salvia spathacea

Blooming March to May, it is attractive to hummingbirds. Leaves are wrinkled on top and hairy beneath.

This small clumping sage emits a sweet fragrance. It spreads by modified subterranean stems that send out roots and shoots.

Photo by David Wolfson

Three Bridges Trail

Escanear el código QR para español.

ATASCADERO LAND PRESERVATION SOCIETY